Orion Partners with AIRTIME Manager.

New alliance increases billables with automated Remote Time Capture.

Atlanta, GA – December 30, 2005 – Orion Law Management Systems, Inc. (Orion), producers of the Orion Financial and Practice Management software, announced today that it has collaborated with AIRTIME Manager to support AIRTIME For Professionals (A4P®) software to assist attorneys that work remotely to automatically capture billable time directly from their handheld devices.

With A4P, attorneys can accurately capture billable time and client information using their BlackBerry® or Palm® Treo® wireless device. Calls, emails and other billable time recorded are automatically captured using A4P prompts. The attorney can then review and complete the transaction from either a user-friendly web interface or by using the Orion Time Manager. A4P installs easily, requires little effort, and allows attorneys to edit entries in familiar Orion formats. This seamless interface maximizes productivity and reduces the loss of precious billable time.

“Our partnership with Orion enables attorneys and law firms to increase their profitability by capturing a significant amount of time that is typically lost,” said Jerry Fenzel, JD, President, and CEO of AIRTIME Manager. “This collaboration simplifies time capture for mobile professionals.”

“This is an excellent partnership for Orion,” said Paul G. Yelton, President of Orion Law Management Systems, Inc. “Orion’s strong point is capturing time as work is performed and this collaboration eliminates the need to manually track and record the time attorneys spend working on their wireless devices. Mobile attorneys really appreciate the automatic time capture and the fact they can review entries as part of their normal bill review process.”
